

Yummie Mummies

by Diana Trupiano ©1997

This is a great treat idea for Halloween or any bake sale!
I've made them for many years and the kids love them.
They're cute, delicious, and with your contact information listed, parents may call to verify who you are, and they will definitely thank you for the effort!

YUMMY MUMMIES

2/3 cup butter, softened	1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla extract	1 cup sugar
2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour	2 eggs
1/2 cup cocoa powder	2 pkgs. white almond bark
1/4 teaspoon baking soda	Additional mini chips for eyes
1 cup mini chocolate chips

Heat oven to 350F.

Cream together butter, sugar, and vanilla. Add eggs, beat well. Stir together flour, cocoa, soda and salt; gradually add to butter mixture until well blended. Stir in 1 cup chips.

Form 1 tablespoon dough into carrot shape place on ungreased cookie sheet. Add a 1 teaspoon sized ball to the wide end for a head. Bake 10 minutes. Place on rack to cool. Chop 1 pkg. almond bark and place in microwave safe bowl. Heat 4 minutes or until melted. Coat cookies using a spoon to pour melted bark. With a toothpick, score diagonal lines in two directions. Add mini chip eyes.

Place on rack to dry.

Repeat with remaining cookies. Makes about 24.
